India totaled $2.6 billion in 2017.
Leading categories include: spices ($272 million), tree nuts ($236 million), essential oils ($182 million), rice ($178 million), and processed fruit & vegetables ($125 million).52

Bangladesh totaled $20 million in 2017.
Leading categories include: tobacco ($7 million), snack foods ($3 million), rice ($2 million), spices ($687 thousand), and tea, including herbs ($517 thousand).53

China totaled $4.5 billion in 2017, our 4th largest supplier of agricultural imports.
Leading categories include: processed fruit & vegetables ($1.1 billion), fruit & vegetable juices ($320 million), fresh vegetables ($181 million), and spices ($159 million).54

The Philippines totaled $1.2 billion in 2017.
Leading categories include: tropical oils ($555 million), processed fruit & vegetables ($199 million), tree nuts ($109 million), raw beet & cane sugar ($105 million), and fruit & vegetable juices ($79 million).55

Brazil totaled $3.2 billion in 2017, our 8th largest supplier of agricultural imports.
Leading categories include: coffee, unroasted ($1.1 billion), fruit & vegetable juices ($365 million), red meats, prep/pres ($234 million), tobacco ($199 million), and essential oils ($117 million).56

Mexico totaled $25 billion in 2017, our largest supplier of agricultural imports.
Leading categories include: other fresh fruit ($6.0 billion), fresh vegetables ($5.5 billion), wine and beer ($3.3 billion), snack foods ($2.1 billion), and processed fruit & vegetables ($1.5 billion).57

Peru totaled $2.0 billion in 2017.
Leading categories include: other fresh fruit ($737 million), fresh vegetables ($329 million), processed fruit & vegetables ($320 million), coffee, unroasted ($223 million), and spices ($49 million).58

Leading categories include: cocoa beans ($186 million), cocoa paste & cocoa butter ($37 million), rubber & allied products ($12 million), fresh vegetables ($9 million), and tree nuts ($7 million).59

Europe imported 93 million tonnes of food in 2016 — 182 kilograms (403 pounds) for every person — mainly from Brazil, Argentina, China and Turkey.60